Davos-Klosters, Switzerland, 26 January 2013 - The Foundation Board of the World Economic Forum has elected Patrick Aebischer, President Swiss Federal Institute of Technology of Lausanne, Switzerland to join its Board.

Professor Aebischer reinforces the multistakeholder concept of the Forum to integrate leaders from all walks of life into the process to shape the global, regional and industry agenda. Professor Aebischer is also an active Member of the Global University Leaders Forum, the premier global community of university presidents on the future of higher education and research.

The Foundation Board is the guardian of the World Economic Forum 's mission, values and brand. It is responsible for inspiring business and public confidence through an exemplary standard of governance. Individuals with unique leadership experience – from business, politics, academia and civil society – participate for three years in the Board's activities. The Board 's role includes managing the statutes of the World Economic Forum and its institutions; appointing new members; reviewing fund applications; determining and monitoring the execution of the World Economic Forum 's strategies; and defining the roles of the Managing Board and Committees, including the review of strategies and activities in light of the Forum 's mission.
