

Euro Will Never Be Abandoned Says France ' s President Nicolas Sarkozy

27 January 2011

- Single currency is integral to European identity
- France and Germany stand solidly behind it
- Euro collapse would be cataclysmic for global economy

Davos, Switzerland, 27 January 2011 – President Nicolas Sarkozy of France said on Thursday that France and Germany would never allow the euro to collapse and warned currency operators that they would be taking huge risks if they speculated against it.

In an address to global business, financial and political leaders at the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting in Davos, he said the euro was an integral part of the European identity and of the drive to unity and cooperation on the continent that had ensured peace and turned old enemies into close friends.

“ Never, listen to me carefully, never will we turn our backs on the euro, never will we drop the euro, ” declared President Sarkozy, saying that he was speaking also for Chancellor Angela Merkel of Germany,

“ The euro is Europe, ” he said. “ We will never let the euro be destroyed ... It is not simply a monetary or an economic issue. It has to do with our identity as Europeans. ”

Responding to a question on the future of the currency now used by 17 members of the 27-country European Union, he said he had been reading wild predictions that the currency would collapse for several months, but noted that they were now dying down.

“ For those who would like to speculate on the euro, I say: Be Careful, ” President Sarkozy, current Chairman of the Group of 20 nations, told participants. The European Union has set up a mechanism that would back up the currency in any crisis. “ The euro is of such overwhelming importance that we will be there whenever it needs to be defended. ”

The results of a collapse “ would be so cataclysmic that we cannot even think of it, nor even play around at thinking about it, ” he added.

Notes to Editors

For more information about the Annual Meeting 2011: <http://wef.ch/Davos2011>

Watch interviews with top leaders about the Davos agenda at <http://wef.ch/DavosInterviews>

View the best pictures from the Annual Meeting on Flickr at <http://wef.ch/pix>

Watch live webcasts of the sessions on Livestream at <http://wef.ch/live>

Watch the sessions on demand on YouTube at <http://wef.ch/youtube> or <http://wef.ch/youku>

Ask a world leader on YouTube at <http://wef.ch/davosdebates>

Become a fan of the Forum on Facebook at <http://wef.ch/facebook>

Follow the Forum on Twitter at <http://wef.ch/twitter> and <http://wef.ch/livetweet>

Check in with the Forum on Foursquare at <http://wef.ch/foursquare>

Read the Forum Blog at <http://wef.ch/blog>

Read Forum reports on Scribd at <http://wef.ch/scribd>

Follow the Meeting on iPhone at <http://wef.ch/iPhone>

Upcoming Forum events at <http://wef.ch/events>

Subscribe to Forum News Release at <http://wef.ch/news>

For more information about the Annual Meeting, please visit <http://www.weforum.org>

The World Economic Forum is an independent international organization committed to improving the state of the world by engaging business, political, academic and other leaders of society to shape global, regional and industry agendas.

Incorporated as a not-for-profit foundation in 1971 and headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, the Forum is tied to no political, partisan or national interests (www.weforum.org).

The World Economic Forum is an international institution committed to improving the state of the world through public-private cooperation in the spirit of global citizenship. It engages with business, political, academic and other leaders of society to shape global, regional and industry agendas.

Incorporated as a not-for-profit foundation in 1971 and headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, the Forum is independent, impartial and not tied to any interests. It cooperates closely with all leading international organizations (www.weforum.org).

World Economic Forum, 91-93 route de la Capite, CH-1223 Cologny/Geneva
Tel. +41 (0)22 869 1212, Fax +41 (0)22 786 2744, <http://www.weforum.org>