
GLOBAL UNIVERSITY LEADERS FORUM (GULF)

Davos, Winter Meeting 2008

STATEMENT

The members of the Global University Leaders Forum affirm our responsibility to educate global citizens and leaders, sustain civil society, and realize human potential. Our institutions do this not only through our teaching, research, and social outreach, but also by facilitating connections and collaboration across cultures and geographies.

Today, we are committing ourselves as a group to working across all sectors of society to strengthen the capabilities of higher education throughout the world.

The Global University Leaders Forum (GULF) is a global community of heads of university created at Davos in 2006 under the auspices of the World Economic Forum. The objective of the GULF is to engage issues of high impact to higher education, and facilitate collaboration among universities and other sectors of society in areas of significance for global governance.
